6160V Alpha Voice Keypad

Alpha Voice Keypad

Talk about convenience! Honeywell's Alpha Voice Keypad actually speaks to you—providing security system status and zone information in plain, spoken English (i.e. "AWAY," "STAY," etc). Security has never been simpler. The other benefits speak for themselves as well. The Voice Keypad also features:

- A large, bright 32-character display that spells out system status in plain English
- Comfortable soft-touch keys labeled with simple commands
- A convenient Family Message Center
- Customized function keys programmable to contact emergency personnel; can be color coded for easy use
- A sleek, attractive white console that blends with any décor and can be placed on a wall or tabletop

No more codes or buzzing. No more flashing lights. Just convenient, sophisticated and user-friendly features that make security system operation easier than ever—and make Honeywell's 6160V Alpha Voice Keypad a product worth talking about!
